

Please refer to the following information on Insurers and Installers for the installation of EV recharging equipment in Common Ownership Communities:

Insurers

Coverage of electric vehicle recharging equipment should be available under most homeowners insurance policies. Please contact your insurer to determine whether your policy covers the equipment, and, if not, how you can add this coverage to your homeowners policy. A listing of licensed homeowners insurers and their contact information is available on the Maryland Insurance Administration's website at:
